

In 2014, Chabot College's School of the Arts merged with the division of Social Sciences to create Arts, Humanities and Social Science. During this time period, Communication Studies joined the division. In January 2017, the division returned to two. The following departments and programs fell under what was previously School of the Arts:

- Architecture
- Art (Studio, Painting, Drawing, Ceramics and Sculpture)
- Art History and Museum Studies
- Communication Studies
- Digital Media
- Film
- Graphic Design
- Humanities
- Interior Design
- Mass Communication (Journalism, Broadcast Television and Radio)
- Music Recording and Technology (Commercial Music, Game Audio)
- Music (Choral, Jazz and Wind)
- Photography
- Religious Studies
- Philosophy
- Theater
- The Performing Arts Center
- KCTH 27 Chabot TV Station
- KCRH Chabot Radio

Chabot proposes to change the title of what had been School of the Arts to better reflect the programs and departments it houses.

Former Division Title: School of the Arts

Proposed Division Title: Arts, Media and Communication
