SUBJECT: COVID-19 Update

Dear Colleagues:

I look forward to seeing you all at next week's virtual convocation. Meanwhile, here is our weekly update.

The following are some updates for this week (as of August 7, 2020):

This week, we have a report of a presumptive positive COVID case (not symptomatic but may have been exposed outside the work place and test results are not back yet) at Las Positas College. The last date this person was on campus was August 4, 2020. When CLPCCD leadership learns that we have an ill employee, we immediately provide notice to each individual that we believe had direct contact with the infected individual and direct them to self-quarantine. If you have not been individually notified, it means that you did not have direct contact with the employee and consider this only an informational communication. Please understand that we are unable to provide personal information or additional details at this time due to personal privacy issues.

As the health of our employees remains our priority, we are now conducting contact tracing within a 14-day time period. Contact tracing continues to be led by respective employee supervisors. We understand that this ongoing news of employee COVID cases may be unsettling and cause for concern. Per guidelines from the Alameda County Health Department, members of the CLPCCD community continue to be considered low-risk, due to mandatory face coverings and social distancing protocols implemented. Please continue to follow all health guidance for social distancing, hand washing, face covering, and covering a cough/sneeze.

Re-opening Measures and COVID-19 Training Document: If you have not had a chance to review the district's COVID-19 reopening training document, you can do so on our website. A virtual training will be offered to all employees and an invitation will be sent out soon. This plan sets out procedures, protocols, and guidelines in the following categories to promote the health and safety of the members of the campus community:

As always, please continue to visit the district urgent alerts webpage for up to date information, and contact your Presidents' Office or administrator for additional questions and/or guidance.
