SUBJECT: COVID-19 Update

We are now entering our 29th week of shelter-in-place and working in a predominately remote environment. While we all look forward to the day when we can resume in-person instruction, we continue to be impressed with how well our team has adapted to remote learning. This period of our lives has provided us the opportunity to hone skills that will serve us forever: resilience, patience and grace. Of course, we have also become much more tech savvy!

Coming to our 29th week and almost seventh month of shelter-in-place, we have been able to establish new practices of communication and operations. With that said, I think our needs for weekly communications of this manner are changing and thus slowing down. So, moving forward, we will communicate in this manner on a “as need basis,” based upon the pace of which new information comes out and/or feedback is received.

We will continue to update our district urgent alerts webpage with up to date information, and please continue to contact your Presidents’ Office or administrator for additional questions and/or guidance.
